

Fee-Based Asset Management

When you work with a fee-based advisor, you are not charged each time a trade is made to your portfolio. Instead, you pay one set fee, fully disclosed and based upon the value of your portfolio, for complete and holistic management of your entire financial picture.

What does holistic management mean? It means your fee-based advisor can offer you guidance on every part of your financial life, ranging from planning for college to saving for retirement. A fee-based advisor can help with long-term goals, such as the right time to retire and adequate income for that retirement, and short-term goals, such as renovating a kitchen or planning a vacation.

How is compensation based? All fees are fully disclosed, and you can review them at any time. Fee-based advisors work to develop long-term relationships and are compensated based on assets under management—so both advisor and client have a mutual stake in increasing the value of the portfolio. And fee-based advisors are guided by principles of fiduciary responsibility: that is, advisors must act, at all times, in the best interest of the client.

What if my goals change? In a fee-based relationship, we'll be in touch often. We can work together to shape your portfolio around changes in goals and risk tolerance—that is, how much risk you want to take on, which can often affect your returns. Together, we discuss the right balance to shape the portfolio to help you achieve your goals over the years.

What can you help me with? Thus, we can help with far more than a single mutual fund transaction. Our expertise extends to:

- Estate Planning
- Retirement Planning
- Investment Products
- Education Planning

Cambridge Investment Research Advisors, Inc. (CIRA) is an investment advisory firm registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

The allocations herein are subject to change at any time. The allocations are not designed based on any one individual's situation and should not be the primary basis for investment decisions. Please consult your advisor before making any investment decisions.

Aggressive Equity Portfolio:

This Strategy primarily invests in equity-based mutual funds/exchange-traded funds (ETFs) (median target 98%). The remaining amount (median target 2%) is targeted to invest in cash or cash equivalents. This strategy may invest a portion of its assets in international or global-based mutual funds/ETFs. This strategy is best-suited for investors who have a high tolerance for risk and a long time horizon.

Moderately Aggressive Equity Portfolio:

This Strategy primarily invests in equity-based mutual funds/exchange-traded funds (ETFs) (median target 85%). This strategy also invests a smaller portion in fixed-income based mutual funds/ETFs (median target 13%). The remaining amount (median target 2%) is targeted to invest in cash or cash equivalents. This strategy may invest a portion of its assets in international or global-based mutual funds/ETFs. This strategy is intended for investors who seek healthy asset growth from their investments yet are not troubled by significant fluctuations in market value.

Moderate Equity Portfolio:

This Strategy primarily invests in equity-based mutual funds/exchange-traded funds (ETFs) (median target 70%). This strategy also invests a smaller portion in fixed-income based mutual funds/ETFs (median target 28%). The remaining amount (median target 2%) is targeted to invest in cash or cash equivalents. This strategy may invest a portion of its assets in international or global-based mutual funds/ETFs. This strategy is intended for investors who seek growth from their investments yet are not troubled by significant fluctuations in market value.

Balanced Equity Portfolio:

This Strategy primarily invests in equity-based mutual funds/exchange-traded funds (ETFs) (median target 55%). This strategy also invests a smaller portion in primarily aggregate style fixed-income-based mutual funds/ETFs (median target 43%). The remaining amount (median target 2%) is targeted to invest in cash or cash equivalents. This strategy may invest a portion of its assets in international or global-based mutual funds/ETFs. This strategy is intended for investors who seek growth from their investments but still desire a potential cushion against excessive stock market fluctuations.

Moderately Conservative Equity Portfolio:

This Strategy primarily invests in fixed-income-based mutual funds/exchange-traded funds (ETFs) (median target 57%). This strategy also invests a smaller portion in equity-based mutual funds/ETFs (median target 40%). This strategy may invest a portion of its assets in international or global-based mutual funds/ETFs. The remaining amount (median target 3%) is targeted to invest in cash or cash equivalents. This strategy is intended for investors who are reluctant to risk substantial short-term losses or who will need to pay for financial goals in the near term, but who still seek some capital appreciation.

Conservative Equity Portfolio:

This Strategy primarily invests in high-quality fixed-income-based mutual funds/exchange-traded funds (ETFs) (median target 71%). This strategy also invests a smaller portion in equity-based mutual funds/ETFs (median target 25%). The remaining amount (median target 4%) is targeted to invest in cash or cash equivalents. The aforementioned median targets are considered base guidelines and as such CIRA does not imply or guarantee complete adherence to these levels. Some deviation should be expected primarily as a result of factors beyond CIRA's control, such as ongoing market fluctuations and volatility, interest rate(s) changes, and portfolio or style drift.

Stocks, options, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds/notes, bonds, separate accounts, and subaccounts will fluctuate. There is a risk of loss of principal with all of these investments.

CIRA currently provides investment advisory services through other platforms/custodians in addition to those used to calculate the attached information. While the portfolios noted adhere to a common composition and generally reflect the corresponding median targets mentioned above, the actual holdings, mutual fund share classes, and trade dates may differ from platform to platform.

More information about advisory fees can be found in CIRA's Part 2A of Form ADV, which is available upon request.

Again, as with any investment strategy, there is a potential for profit as well as the possibility for loss. Different types of investments and investment strategies (including those mentioned herein) involve varying degrees of risk, and there can be no assurance that the future performance of any specific investment, investment strategy, or product detailed in this report will increase in value, will be profitable, or will equal any corresponding indicated historical performance level(s).

To the extent that there has been a change in your investment objectives, financial situation, or other information that could affect recommendations, please advise your Financial Advisor immediately.

These allocation percentages may differ with the aforementioned median targets and more closely represent the actual portfolio allocation as applied. An index is unmanaged. Investors cannot directly invest in an index.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
