The aforementioned median targets are considered base guidelines and as such CIRA does not imply or guarantee complete adherence to these levels. Some deviation should be expected primarily as a result of factors beyond CIRA's control, such as ongoing market fluctuations and volatility, interest rate(s) changes, and portfolio or style drift.

Stocks, options, mutual funds, exchange-traded funds/notes, bonds, separate accounts, and subaccounts will fluctuate. There is a risk of loss of principal with all of these investments.

CIRA currently provides investment advisory services through other platforms/custodians in addition to those used to calculate the attached information. While the portfolios noted adhere to a common composition and generally reflect the corresponding median targets mentioned above, the actual holdings, mutual fund share classes, and trade dates may differ from platform to platform.

More information about advisory fees can be found in CIRA's Part 2A of Form ADV, which is available upon request.

Again, as with any investment strategy, there is a potential for profit as well as the possibility for loss. Different types of investments and investment strategies (including those mentioned herein) involve varying degrees of risk, and there can be no assurance that the future performance of any specific investment, investment strategy, or product detailed in this report will increase in value, will be profitable, or will equal any corresponding indicated historical performance level(s).

To the extent that there has been a change in your investment objectives, financial situation, or other information that could affect recommendations, please advise your Financial Advisor immediately.

These allocation percentages may differ with the aforementioned median targets and more closely represent the actual portfolio allocation as applied. An index is unmanaged. Investors cannot directly invest in an index.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
